New Tools for NEw Targets:
a challenge for youth workers

The project NETNET aims to create an educational kit including board game and mobile application to talk about democracy, European awareness and citizenship.

Until the end of the first half of 2017, the partnership has worked hard to create and improve the first draft of the kit. All partners tested the board game with youths and got feedbacks. Now, partners are working intensively to make the kit better...

THE THIRD TRANSNATIONAL MEETING: 16-19 MAY 2017

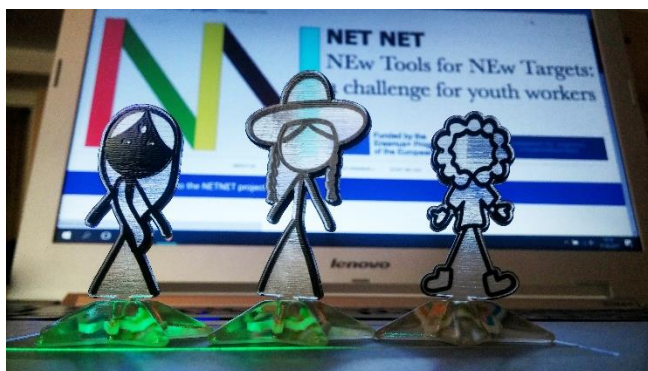

Third transnational meeting was held to discuss reached steps and future works in Ankara – Turkey. The Turkish organization FAAL hosted the other organizations; IFALL (Sweden), AIJU (Spain) and Bluebook (Italy).

The feedbacks obtained from the test games were evaluated to improve the game and prepare it more user-friendly. The game is going to have more squares and new symbols. QR codes are going to place within the questions in order to reach answers quicker.

The partnership has many additional tasks to make the game better:

- ✚ The board game is going to be tested one more time.
- ✚ Experts that come from different working areas are going to evaluate the kit, the questions.

- ✚ Multiplier Events with 50 people and Labs for Youth Workers with 25 people will be held by each organization.
- ✚ A new lively video tutorial is going to be created.

So in the next few months we are going to work to improve the educational kit for youth.
